PORT - SHERRY

PORT

QUINTA DA PEDRA ALTA PORTS | DOURO VALLEY, PORTUGAL

Set high above the Pinhão River in the heart of the Douro Valley, Quinta da Pedra Alta is a historic estate whose vineyards have been recognised for exceptional Port production since 1761. The estate is uniquely home to three original Feitoria granite markers, awarded during the official demarcation of the Port region, reflecting the outstanding quality of its terroir.
Crafted from indigenous Douro grape varieties, the Ports of Quinta da Pedra Alta combine tradition, elegance, and complexity. From vibrant White Port to rich aged Tawny and distinguished Vintage Port, each wine showcases the character of the estate's high-altitude vineyards and centuries of winemaking heritage.

SHERRY

PORT OF LEITH SHERRY | JEREZ, SPAIN & LEITH, EDINBURGH

Inspired by Leith's historic connection to the sherry trade, the Port of Leith Distillery has partnered with Bodegas Barón, a family-owned sherry producer in Sanlúcar de Barrameda, Spain, to bring authentic Andalusian sherries to Edinburgh. This collaboration celebrates a centuries-old tradition that once saw sherry arrive through Leith's bustling docks, helping shape Scotland's whisky heritage.
From the crisp, bone-dry Manzanilla to the rich, nutty Oloroso and indulgently sweet Pedro Ximénez, each sherry showcases the craftsmanship of traditional solera ageing and the distinctive character of southern Spain's famed sherry region. Carefully selected for both enjoyment and whisky cask seasoning, these wines offer a unique link between two great fortified wine traditions.
